Insert references in my document

Early MOOCs (cMOOCs) often emphasized open-access features, such as open licensing of content, structure and learning goals, to promote the reuse and remixing of resources. Some later MOOCs (xMOOCs) use closed licenses for their course materials while maintaining free access for students (1, 2).

- Place the cursor where you want to insert the references and click [Insert Citations]
- Search the references using keywords, author names, publication year, etc. The [Find] operation searches all fields in all references in your library.
- Select the references that you want to insert and click [Insert] at the bottom
- When inserting new references in my document, the list of references in automatically renumbered 😊
- Go to “Edit Citations” to edit or remove any citation

Organize references in groups

The screenshot shows a reference management interface with a purple header bar containing the text "[Unfiled]". Below the header, there are navigation controls including "Show 10 per page" and "Page 1 of 1 Go". A list of references is displayed, with a dropdown menu open over the first entry. The dropdown menu contains the following options: "Add to group...", "- Artificial Intelligence_gener... *", "- Climate change", "- Energies", "- Growth hormone", "- Nobel Prize_general", "- Oceanography", and "New group". The first entry in the list is "Chatman, Seymour" with a year of "1980" and a title "What Novels Can Do That Films Can't (And Vice Versa) Critical Inquiry". The entry includes metadata such as "Added to Library: 15 Dec 2019" and "Last Updated: 15 Dec 2019", and a "Full Text" button. The interface also features a "Copy To Quick List" and "Delete" button for each entry.

We recommend adding new references to a group (new or existing) just after importing them in the [Unfiled] folder, so you leave the [Unfiled] folder empty before the next import

Early MOOCs (cMOOCs) often emphasized open-access features, such as open licensing of content, structure and learning goals, to promote the reuse and remixing of resources. Some later MOOCs (xMOOCs) use closed licenses for their course materials while maintaining free access for students (1, 2).

TIP - Save as “Plain Text” a copy of your document before sharing your manuscript for review

1. Keep the original file with the active references
2. Save a copy with another name
3. For the copy, convert citations and bibliography to plain-text (This action cannot be reverted)
